Since 1984, The CareGivers, Inc. has been assisting the frail, elderly and disabled to remain in their homes for as long as possible. The non-profit organization's goal is to match community volunteers with their neighbors to help them maintain independence and dignity.

“Most senior citizens would prefer to live independently for as long as possible, but many are unable to achieve that without some support,” said Terry Wiegelman vice president of marketing, Members First Credit Union. “The CareGivers provides important services to the elderly in our community to help them maintain their independence during their fragile years, and the employees at Members First are honored to support their mission with this donation.”

Innovative programs offered by The CareGivers, Inc. have allowed tens of thousands to remain independent and lead more fulfilled lives. In addition to transportation, friendly visits and reassurance calls, The CareGivers, Inc. currently sponsors many one-day service projects and provides free food packages for low income seniors and disabled veterans.
