Members First Credit Union Employees Go Casual to Benefit NH Foster & Adoptive Parent Association

Members First Credit Union employees recently donated $535 from their Casual Friday Fund to the NH Foster and Adoptive Parent Association. Credit union employees donate $5 for the opportunity to dress down on Fridays; money from the fund is donated to various local charities throughout the year. MANCHESTER, NH (October 29, 2018) – Members First Credit Union employees take casual day seriously. Each Friday, employees give $5 to dress down in jeans and other casual attire to support local charities. Members First recently donated $535 from the Casual Friday Fund to NH Foster & Adoptive Parent Association (NH FAPA).

The New Hampshire Foster & Adoptive Parent Association supports foster and adoptive parents while remaining a consistent strong voice on behalf of the children.

“Children in the foster care system need a voice and the NH Foster & Adoptive Parent Association are strong advocates on their behalf,” said Terry Wiegelman, vice president of marketing, Members First Credit Union. “The NH FAPA provides important services to children and adoptive parents in our communities, and the employees at Members First are honored to support their mission with this donation.”

Working in conjunction with a dozen support groups across the state, the non-profit organization helps provide opportunities for youth in their care to connect with other children, and offers parents a chance to network with other foster and adoptive parents.
